CONVINCING.—The proof of the pudding is not in eating the strings, but in having an opportunity to test the article direct. M. Fraze the Druggist, has a free trial bottle of Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup for each and every one who is afflicted with Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Consumption or any Lung Affection.

Gen. S. Cadwallader, correspondent St. Louis Globe Democrat arrived in Vinita Monday, from his extended tour through the Territory, in good health and spirits. His letters have been read with general interest throughout the Territory. He left for his home at Springfield on Tuesday.

"Camp Bro's" Boss Greym Agitator" is the name of a new chum, patented the 11th of March last, and is on exhibition by Mr. N. A. Willis. It may be seen at Dr. Warren's lunch stand. It is warranted to bring butter in from three to ten minutes. The machinery is simple, and seemingly promises to accomplish what is claimed for it.

It is reported that the grand jury at Fort Smith has found a bill against Bert Henderson for shooting A. C. Hampton, at this place, some time since. Henderson claimed to be acting under authority in arresting Hampton, and was shot himself at the time. Hampton surrendered himself shortly after the occurrence, and has been out on bail awaiting a trial.

Prof. I. N. Candall, Principal of the institution, will deliver, by invitation, a lecture, Saturday evening, next, before Worcester Literary Society, in the study room of the Academy—subject: "Oliver Cromwell, or Royal Precedence against popular rights." The ability of Prof. Candall as a lecturer will, we doubt not, be the subject of a large audience in addition to the members of the society.

CASE OF LIZ.—As we come to them they are received, borne with and passed over with no more than a thought, if we are in the enjoyment of health, but if suffering with piles, or skin disease of any kind, they magnify a hundred-fold. M. Fraze & Co., the druggists, have Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which is an absolute cure for any affection of this kind, and is sold at 50 cents.

The marriage of Miss Lillie E. Marcum, the accomplished daughter of Col. and Mrs. Thomas Marcum, to Mr. James G. McCombe is announced for Wednesday, May 28, at 8 o'clock in the Presbyterian Church at Ft. Smith, Ark. The Editor returns thanks for being remembered and begs leave to tender in advance congratulations appropriate to the highly interesting affair.

James Mitchell, formerly of the Mitchell House at Muskogee, died after a long illness, Thursday last, at Denison, Texas. Mr. Mitchell established the Hotel at Muskogee, which bears his name, and with the aid of Mrs. M. made it the leading house in the Territory. During the residence of Mr. M. at Muskogee we knew him well, and sincerely regret to record his death. To Mrs. M. we beg to extend our unfeigned sympathy.

The Concert last Friday night at the Congregational Church by Messrs. Durham, Myers, Beatty, Stephens and Raymond, and Messrs. Scroggs, Badgett, Bickens and Ward, vocal and instrumental, was well attended and enjoyed by the lovers of good music. The receipts were satisfactory, and will be expended for the benefit of the church choir in the purchase of stumped instruments for use in the Sunday school of that church.

Mr. Jesse B. Mayes, a well-known citizen of this Nation, in consequence of failing health, was induced to remove to California, where he arrived in November, 1888. He writes as an interesting letter from Alpine, Cal., postmarked El Cajon, May 1, 1889. From it we learn that he is 25 miles from the Pacific coast, in a valley surrounded by high mountains, but which has a fertile soil and most delightful climate. His health is already restored, and he is trying his hand at farming and raising pigs, etc., for a livelihood. Quite naturally his thoughts turn homeward, and he looks forward to an undefined time when he may return to his fatherland.

Picnic Friday, at Cabin Creek, for all our schools.

A strawberry festival will be held next Wednesday, the 28th, at the Presbyterian church in Vinita. The proceeds will be applied to furnishing the church. The public are invited to attend and help on this worthy object.

The "Frisco" railroad have on sale round trip tickets to Dayton, Ohio, for $22.50 for parties desiring to attend the annual meeting of the German Baptist (Dunkard) Church, to be held at Miller's Crossing on June 30 to June 7th. Also have on sale round trip tickets to Pueblo, Denver, Colorado Springs and Manitou.

D. C. Williams, of Van Buren, Ark., was struck by a train while walking on the track the evening of the 15th, and had both arms cut off, and was otherwise mangled so badly as to die within two hours after the accident, which was caused by his deafness. Mr. Williams was one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Van Buren, and will be remembered by many persons in the Territory as a member of the old firm of J. Henry Williams & Co. of that city.

The Indian Appropriation bill passed by the House contained a clause to transfer the trial of all criminal cases among Indians to the U. S. Courts. This clause was stricken out by the Senate, and the bill returned with this and other amendments to the House for concurrence. The provision is so manifestly unjust, and in such palpable violation of the rights guaranteed by treaty to the civilized nations of the Territory, that the House will doubtless concur in the action of the Senate. The delegations from the Indian Territory now in Washington will do their duty to their people in the premises.

One of the most effective means of improvement enjoyed by students of Worcester Academy is the literary society connected with it, and which is composed of teachers and the more advanced members of the institution. The society meets weekly at the Academy building and the exercises, opened with prayer, consist of readings, recitations, essays, music, and the reading of the "Weekly Vidette." Henry C. Chambers is president, and Miss Mary Raymond secretary. The order of exercises, Saturday evening the 17th, were: Prayer by Miss Durham, Reading by Miss Victoria Knight, Recitation by Miss Annie West, Music by Miss Mary Davis, Essay by Miss Myers, Vidette—Editors, Messrs. Landrum and Walker. The exercises for Saturday evening next, the 24th, will be: Recitation by Miss Annie West, Music by Miss Mary Raymond, Essay by Messrs. Landrum and Chamberlain, Reading by Miss Bridie Trott, Vidette—Editors, John Rogers and H. C. Chambers. The meetings are open to visitors, and those who may attend will find it a pleasant way of passing an hour or two, besides creating by their presence an increased desire among the members to excel in the parts assigned them.

A SURE CURE FOR PILES.—The first symptom of piles is an intense itching at night after getting warm. This unpleasant sensation is immediately relieved by an application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy. Piles in all its forms, Itch, Salt Rheum and Ringworm, can be permanently cured by the use of this great remedy. Price 50 cents. Manufactured by Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., Chicago. Sold by M. Fraze & Co.

From Chelsea. Chelsea is still on the boom. J. C. McSpadden is preparing to build a nice residence in town. Ed. Byrd has about completed his new scales.

G. W. Scroggs is contemplating an addition to his residence. Thomas McSpadden is bent on having a nice house on his ranch. Our old friend J. L. McCoy is now a resident of Chelsea, and is in the drug business for Mr. Couch. He seems to be very much pleased to meet his old friends. Chelsea is blessed with a book agent. Last, but not least, we have a flourishing Sunday school here. There was a good turnout for a commencement, and we hope that it will continue to be a success. The whole community is cordially invited to attend. There will be a school meeting next Saturday at 4 o'clock, in the interest of a schoolhouse and Methodist church.

Claremore Clatterings. John Bullette is preparing to move his residence from old Claremore to town.

Uncle Joe Chambers will build here soon, and engage in the drug business. So says rumor. Beard & Hicks are adding to their storehouse. This firm has lately started a branch house at Oatons, and Mr. Hicks and family have deserted us. Oatons is fortunate in gaining one of our best citizens, but we mourn the loss.

Sam Love continues to keep the nice stock of goods at John Bullette's store ship-shape, and reports business good. The round-up is about through with here, and our stock men are pleased with their success in finding more live cattle than they expected to get.

John Beard reports having shipped 4200 hides in carload lots during the winter and spring, besides a large number in small lots. John Bullette and Chambers Bros. have also made heavy shipments.

Along the "Frisco." A flying trip, Friday last, from Vinita to Mingo station-house, gave a few items which may not be out of place in the columns of the CHIEFTAIN. The country robed in its vernal suit of green, beneath the rays of the bright sun, and clean and fresh from recent rains, presented a beautiful appearance. We have never seen it look more so. The only exception to this remark was to be seen in the backward condition of the corn crop. Some farmers have just finished planting while others found it necessary to plow up and replant in consequence of overflows and washing of rolling lands. What corn we saw was small. With a favorable season these late plantings and replantings will do well, but if the heavy spring rains are succeeded by early drouth and hot weather, they will be of short account. Chelsea, Claremore and Oatons.

give evidences of advancement, as a result of the growth of the farming and stock-raising interests in their several vicinities. The country around all these places is susceptible of improvement, and we shall expect to see an increasing addition to their settlements. The annual round-up of cattle, where not completed, is going on. While the heavy loss anticipated in some herds is fully realized, in others it is much less. Cattle have drifted badly, however, and some time may elapse before all that have safely passed the winter will be found and gathered.

The "Frisco" road from Vinita to Tulsa is in good order, recent damages having been fully repaired in the few places where they occurred, and is under good management. W. O. Williams, the efficient road-master from Seneca to Tulsa, casts an eye to his duties, and the result is that few, if any, accidents occur. Joe Hall, the conductor from Vinita to Red Fork, is spoken of by the natives as the cleverest and most accommodating of men, and what they say is so, as they are not likely to be over-lavish in commending men in any position, much less those who are offensive in manner and presumptuous in temper. From personal intercourse we endorse their kindly sentiments towards Conductor Hall.

As for George Stephenson, the engineer, everybody about Vinita knows him, and perhaps from St. Louis to Red Fork. He took us aboard his lively pet for fifteen or twenty miles, and between the intervals of whistling cattle and hogs off the track, we drew from him a few items of personal history which we may repeat. George—as everybody calls him here—is a native of Canada, and between 30 and 40 years of age. He commenced railroading when only about 15 years old, and has been at it for 17 years, having practically passed from wiper to engineer, and learned and performed all the duties of his different positions. He is at present in charge of both ends of the route from Vinita to Tulsa, and the force properly attached to his special duties, but finds valuable aid in running his passenger locomotive in the person of his assistant, John Sullivan, of whom he speaks in terms of high commendation. George has followed the construction of the road from Bolivia, Mo., to Red Fork, beyond the Arkansas River, and hopes yet to run his "daisy" to the Pacific, which we will not be surprised if he should do. Fortune favors the brave. He has met with no serious accident thus far, creeps or flies, as occasion requires, and is always cool and tactful when not irritated and overflowing with expletives, as sometimes is the case. May his boiler never burst, nor his end be met in the last ditch.

Chief Keokuk and Wm. Harris, delegates from the Sacs and Foxes of the Indian Territory to Washington, who arrived from their agency Thursday last, made a call at the CHIEFTAIN office. We were gratified to see the Chief in the enjoyment of excellent health, and looking as if there may be in store for him yet many years of usefulness among his people. He is now residing on his stock farm, a few miles from the agency, where he has quite a herd of cattle in good condition, besides other domestic stock. Although applications have been made to them for the purpose, the Sacs and Foxes have thus far resisted all efforts made to obtain from them leases from outside parties for grazing purposes. The pressure, however, is great, and it seems to have become almost a matter of necessary self-defense, although justly distrustful of the outcome of such policy, as their range is almost overrun by the drifting upon their reservation of large herds held in their immediate vicinity, as it is believed that even persons who are enclosures are not over-careful in keeping their wire fences in suitable repair to confine their stock to their own enclosures. The Sacs and Foxes are more generally supplied with horses than with cattle, and value them more highly, but the number of those turning their attention to cattle is gradually increasing, as is the number who are turning their attention to the cultivation of the soil. The school at the agency is fairly attended by their children, several of whom are also at Hampton, Carlisle, and the new school at Chillico in the Territory, near Arkansas City, Kansas. The Sacs and Foxes, although small in number, are divided in their locations. There are about 540 of them in Iowa, 150 in Kansas and 450 in the Territory. The number in the Territory shows an increase in a few years past, and if let alone, it is hoped they will not fail to make commendable progress in the near future in the pursuits and habits of civilized life.

In the early part of the month a Cheyenne Indian named Running Buffalo was shot and killed by E. M. Horton, a Texas horse-drover, and one of his men, near Cantonment, in the western part of the Territory. The version of the affair is that given by Horton and his drivers. Horton had a drove of 400 Texas horses, which he was taking to the Kansas market. After crossing the Canadian near Cantonment, he was "tricked" by a band of Cheyennes under Running Buffalo for money and horses. Upon his refusal to pay, Buffalo tried to get Horton's gun from him, but could not, and then pulled down on Horton and said "me kill you!" several times, and cried "war!" and pulled the trigger, but missed fire, when Horton shot and killed Buffalo, one of his men also shooting him "in self-defense." They took Buffalo's pistol, recrossed the river at a run, and made for Cantonment. Horton telegraphed to friends in Kansas, and while at the office of the operator, it was surrounded by armed Cheyennes, who were prevailed upon by Mr. Harvey, in charge of the Indian Mission there, to desist from an attack. From the office

Horton and party were conducted to a stone building about 300 yards distant, and would have been fired upon by the Indians, who thought from their movements that they were attempting to escape, but for the intervention of Little Chief, Lieut. Gibbon, Co. F, 9th Cavalry, was sent from Ft. Reno, 65 miles distant, and liberated them, taking Horton and his men, who also shot Buffalo, to the Cheyenne Agency. About one-half of the horses were turned over to the Indians, and the remaining three hands allowed to proceed towards Kansas with the balance of the drove. Horton and the other man were afterwards turned over to a deputy marshal and taken to Kansas for trial before the U. S. district court.

Running Buffalo has a bad record given him by those furnishing the account of the transaction, which comes from Horton and those who side with him. What the Indians have to say about the circumstances of the killing of Running Buffalo and the conduct of Horton and party, has not been reported. There may be two sides to the occurrence, although only one may be heard from. But be that as it may, some papers around the border seat themselves on their haunches and howl, after the manner of the coyotes, about the Indians and the Indian Territory, without regard to person and character, oblivious to the fact that town marshals have been leaders of bands who murder bank presidents and cashiers, for robbery, and that more crime, diabolical crime, is perpetrated by our own people upon the persons and property of one another, and upon the Indians, than the Indians upon themselves or upon whites. But no one but a fool or a knave, or a cross between them, would inveigh against the whole state of Kansas, Texas, or any other state, because of these individual acts which occur within their limits. Nor will others than these indulge in such denunciations of the Indian Territory.

Of Interest to All on the Right of Way. The Indian Journal furnishes the following copy of Commissioner Price's letter to S. Agent Tuffin, in regard to clearing the right of way through the Territory of the M. P. R. R. It is stated that reasonable time will be given for persons to remove their effects and buildings from the right of way. By the way, will Agent Tuffin please inform us whether his instructions are confined to the M. P. R. R., or if they include also the A. & P.?

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28, 1889. J. Q. Tuffin, U. S. Indian Agent, Muskogee, I. T.—Sir: I enclose herewith, a copy of a letter received from Messrs. Britton & Gray of this city, attorneys for the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway Company, dated the 1st instant, calling attention to the fact that sundry persons are intruding upon the Company's right of way through the Indian Territory, granted by the Treaties and Acts of Congress of 1866, (maps of which, and of its several station grounds, have been duly approved by this Department) and by the erection of houses and other structures seriously embarrass the company in the enjoyment and necessary use of its property rights. Instance is given of one J. M. Tittle, a Cherokee, who has erected an eating house or cinder stand adjoining the track at Vinita Station, and who refuses to remove upon request of the railroad officials. In compliance with the request preferred in said letter, you are hereby directed to caution all persons, other than those employed by said railway company, from occupying for any purpose any land or premises on said right of way or station grounds, or being already thereon, to remove therefrom within a given time, and in case of their neglect or refusal to remove within the time specified, you will cause their removal to be effected by the means of your agency police force, in order that the company may have the full and uninterrupted use and enjoyment of the privileges accorded by said treaties and act of Congress respectively.

This order will be deemed and taken to be of continuing force and effect. Very Respectfully, H. PRICE, Commissioner.
